

SWAMPLLOT

MONDAY, JUNE 11, 2012

Sicardi Gallery Steps Up to West Alabama

BRAVE ARCHITECTURE'S new Sicardi Gallery across from the Menil parking lot is "pretty amazing," declares Glasstire art critic Kelly Klaasmeyer, who was there for Thursday's opening opening. The 2-story 5,800-sq.-ft. stucco-and-steel structure is a big step up from the gallery's small previous space next to the McClain Gallery on Richmond. That lone window on the second floor of the new building facing West Alabama is designated as a rear-projection screen for exhibited videos, but they're not showing yet:

A view of the library and balcony, upstairs:

- [Sicardi Gallery's New Building + Oscar Muñoz \[Glasstire\]](#)
- [Gallery \[Sicardi Gallery\]](#)
- Previously on Swamplot: Sicardi Move Triggering Art Gallery Shuffle, New Sicardi Gallery Gets the Go-Ahead, A New Sicardi Gallery Exhibit

Photos: Kelly Klaasmeyer/Glasstire

12:04 pm | 2 Comments |

RELATED POSTS ON REAL ESTATE IN HOUSTON, TEXAS:

- A New Sicardi Gallery Exhibit
- Sicardi Move Triggering Art Gallery Shuffle
- New Sicardi Gallery Gets the Go-Ahead

Read more about: 77006, GALLERIES, HOUSTON ARCHITECTS, MENIL COLLECTION, OPENINGS AND CLOSINGS